What is a Cub Scout Pack Meeting? A pack meeting is a monthly event that brings all the Cubs from all ranks together for a fun event. Families are encouraged to come, including younger siblings. They usually last about an hour and a half. A pack meeting gives Cub Scouts an opportunity to see that they are part of something more than just their den. Younger Scouts get to see what older Scouts do, and older Scouts get to serve as role models for the younger kids.

The Cub Scouting program takes place at two levels. Your child will be a part of a den, a small group of Cub Scouts in the same grade level and who are of the same gender. A den typically meets twice a month, although some may meet more often. All dens, from kindergarten through fifth grade, make up a pack.
