The idea of "The Green Book" is to give the Motorist and Tourist a Guide not only of the Hotels and Tourist Homes in all of the large cities, but other classifications that will be found useful wherever he may be. Also facts and information that the Negro Motorist can use and depend upon. There are thousands of places that the public doesn't know about and aren't listed. Perhaps you know of some? If so send in their names and addresses and the kind of business, so that we might pass it along to the rest of your fellow Motorists. You will find it handy on your travels, whether at home or in some other state, and is up to date. Each year we are compiling new lists as some of these places move, or go out of business and new business places are started giving added employment to members of our race.

What are America's leading companies doing to excel in quality? This book provides the answer. Jay W. Spechler, senior examiner for the Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award Committee, has brought together case studies of how over 30 leading companies put quality management into practice in their organizations. Included are case studies from: Xerox; Federal Express; Westinghouse; Whirlpool; Hyatt Hotels and Resorts; Marriott; New York Life; Cadillac Motor Car; 3M; Knight-Ridder; and Kmart. The case studies focus on how the Baldrige Award criteria are actually being applied in the companies and how the companies are achieving quality results. The cases cover all aspects of quality management - from values and philosophies to actual implementation, training, measurement and employee involvement. They include many practical examples to illustrate successful strategies, programmes and action steps. In addition, the book's seven opening chapters provide general guidelines for implementing quality management in any organization.

"Entrepreneurship, The Art of Succeeding in Business" provides you with an exciting opportunity to conceptualize, plan, and start your own business.Through guided Business Plan development activities, "Entrepreneurship, The Art of Succeeding in Business" helps you develop important skills needed to successfully start a business, including: recognizing business opportunities; integrating personal and business planning goals; making decisions based on the "best available" information; and, developing self-reliance."Entrepreneurship, The Art of Succeeding in Business" contains four sections that will progressively help you understand the challenges and opportunities associated with starting a business.The first section introduces you to the world of entrepreneurship. This section will help you understand why you will be the most important reason that your business succeeds or fails. It will challenge you to consider if you have the motivation and personality needed to successfully start and operate a business.The second section is the Business Plan Development Guide. It sets forth a structured process that provides you with an opportunity to establish realistic business goals, develop sales forecasts, and estimate the potential income for your business. The process begins by having you focus on why you decided to start a business and why your business has (or does not have) a chance to succeed. The Business Plan Development Guide will also: help you assess your personal strengths and weaknesses; help you set goals that will meet both your personal and business priorities; walk you through a process of identifying potential customers and evaluating what they look for from a business like yours; help you identify and evaluate other businesses that serve similar client needs and thus, will be your competitors; show you how to use the customer and competitor data to identify a market niche for your business and to project your business' sales potential; show you how to develop a Marketing Plan and Financial Plan, including how to project profitability and manage your cash during the start-up phase of your business; and, show you how to develop a Plan of Action, a step-by-step process for implementing your Business Plan.The third section of "Entrepreneurship, The Art of Succeeding in Business" is a series of practical discussions of issues related to operating a business including business structure, licenses, taxes, accounting, and developing effective communication skills.This section provides practical advice based on the author's business experiences.The fourth, and final, section contains a completed Sample Business Plan.
